Supreme Court Decisions.

The head notes of the Decisions of the Supreme Court, for the last term, are now ready, in pamphlet form, at this office. Price, one dollar.

The Cartersville Fair.

This Fair is now in progress, and bids fair to be an excellent affair.

☞ Mr. Vinson, of Crawford county, is at home sick, and was unable to be at his post to vote against the election bill.

Mr. Humber, who was away, represents that he was absent on account of his son's sickness.

Representative Dr. A. S. Fowler, of Catoosa County.

We have received a letter from Ringgold stating that this member was away from his post during the vote on the election bill in consequence of fatal sickness in his family.

We take pleasure in thus relieving Dr. Fowler from all possible censure in the matter.

The Murfreesboro (Tenn.) Fair.

We have had letters from our special correspondent at this Fair, but they have been crowded out. On the first, 15,000 people were in attendance. Among the racy features was a foot-race between 15th amendments. Murfreesboro has much improved and grown. A Mrs. Dr. Bedford has established a House of Industry for poor women and girls who live by sewing.

The Legislature Playing Out.

A perusal of the report of the proceedings of the House this morning will leave the reader in no pleasant frame of mind. Step by step has this General Assembly sunk in dignity and respect, until its very mention but elicits contempt. A few honorable men stand out amid the waste; but the body, as a body, gleams with the rank phosphorescence of commingled corruption and putrid partisanism. This is strong language, but it is sadly and inexorably merited.

Born of a bayonet accouchment, made a miserable abortion by Radical deviltry, and with the armed aid of the Federal soldier chained in ignominious vassalage to the Bullock and Blodgett faction, the thing has made a record of partisan subserviency that will find no match for its abhorrent features unless in the base annals of Southern reconstruction.

What it has lacked in weakness the body has made up in reckless criminality. Measure after measure has it passed in wanton aggression upon popular rights, until it culminated its atrocity by a partisan invasion of the sanctity of the ballot-box over the clearest and most binding mandates of the Constitution.

Not more by what it has done than what it has vigorously tried, and barely failed to do, is it to be judged. Under this test its infamy is unsurpassable.

A session of unprecedented and intolerable length has been wasted in lawless organization and upon measures damnable in character, and damning to the State's weal, while neglecting the substantial business of legislation. Voting itself, and drawing extravagant pay, it has frittered the public money and time in brief, wrangling sessions of a few hours each day, and devoted a majority of the working hours to ease and pleasure.

We have no patience to pursue the theme farther. The Assembly's sittings are public outrages. The very name of Legislature has become odious. The people are sick of its abortive mummery. Let it adjourn. The State demands it. Let honest Democrats push adjournment daily.

Hon. Roland B. Hall.

In writing a sketch of the above gentleman, we do not profess to be paying homage to one "mighty in intellect—to one of heavenly mold, who, like the giants of old, are the offspring of the gods and the daughters of men;" for such men are few. Mr. Hall's name is not inscribed on the rolls of fame, nor has he heard hosannas from the public voice; but he is one who has friends and virtues, a fixed purpose, a resolute will, and an untiring energy—all of which, combined, have made him a successful Representative, and deserving of notice as one of the representative men of the country.

He was born in Baldwin county, in this State, in the year 1840, and is now thirty years of age. He is six feet, two inches high, weighs one hundred and seventy pounds, has gray eyes, dark curly hair, and wears a moustache; is neat in his dress, and in manners is cultivated, is modest and unassuming in his deportment, and has discharged his duties as a Representative in a manner that has not only commanded respect, but so as to make him many friends. He bears the reputation for a high order of integrity. His intellectual powers are of the available kind, his mind is clear, his energies never flag. His mental tools are always in first-rate order, and he has an intuitiveness of mind which enables him to decide on subjects, the real motives of others, and the direct way to accomplish an object. Hope is large with him; he has a disposition to look forward, and he acts upon the belief that sanguine anticipations promote enterprise and an effort, and these success.

Mr. Hall received the rudiments of an education at the Milledgeville Academy. His father being a man of limited means, with a large family to maintain, young Hall determined not to be a burden upon him, and at the age of fourteen became the architect of his own fortunes. He entered upon life by receiving a situation in a drug store, when for several years he applied himself to be thoroughly qualified as druggist and chemist, in the meantime paying attention to other studies. The fond hope of his boyhood was to receive an appointment to the United States military Academy at West Point. With the defeat of his patron, the Hon. Linton Stephens, in 1857, he gave up all hope of obtaining an appointment, and engaged in teaching school in Thomas county, in order to educate himself for the profession of law.

Upon the breaking out of the war, however, he laid aside all considerations of self, and responded to the call for volunteers, and in April, 1861, he entered as a private in the 4th Georgia volunteers under the gallant General Doles. By correct soldierly bearing and excellent conduct, he was in 1863 appointed by President Davis a cadet in the Regular Confederate States Army, with rank and pay of Lieutenant, and assigned to duty on the Staff of General Wade Hampton. He was with that officer in all the battles around Richmond and Petersburg, until January, 1865, at which time he was placed by order of General Lee, in command of the outposts north of Richmond, with headquarters at Fredericksburg. In this capacity he was commander of all scouts, secret agents, and blockade runners, employed by the Confederate States Government, and charged with the duty of arresting deserters and preventing illicit trade and communication between the two governments. Though making all speed to rejoin General Lee, after his evacuation of Richmond, he failed to reach him in time to surrender with him. He disbanded his command, and subsequently surrendered himself in June 1865.

In 1866, Mr. Hall moved to Brunswick, Glynn county, and engaged in business with success. By a prudent foresight, he has made investments in that city which are already paying him handsome dividends, and his general business career marks him as a shrewd safe financier. He was selected in 1868 as a Conservative, without opposition. He has never been anything but a Democrat, and though independent in action, never swerves from what he believes right when principle is at stake. While ever watchful and vigilant for the interests of his immediate constituency, the people of the entire State have always found in him an earnest champion in the House. He ranks among the foremost on internal improvements in the House of Representatives. Mr. Hall is the most energetic and successful worker in the Legislature. Every measure of importance, of which he has been the earnest advocate, has been carried. His enuciation is clear, distinct and animated, and he never wearies the House, but is always listened to with attention.

The constituents of Mr. Hall have every reason to be proud of his efforts in their behalf; and his friends all agree that he has never faltered in what he believed to be his duty to them; he frequently successfully carries measures which, to say the least, would have been doubtful in the hands of a man of less nerve and address. It is reported that Mr. H. is not seeking a re-election, and desires to retire to private life in order to engage in more congenial pursuit. But with our observation and knowledge of him, his great success in promoting the interests of his constituents, and having heard an old and intelligent citizen, one long acquainted with legislative men and legislative action, one who has watched closely the members of the present Legislature, remark that had he an important bill that he wanted to get through the Legislature, that required a ready and clear exposition of its merits, together with watchfulness, and care, and tact, to insure its success he would rather entrust it to Hall, of Glynn, than any other. We would not be astonished if, "willing or unwilling," the people of his county return him to the next Legislature.

From the London Lancet.

The Headless Horseman of Woerth.

At the battle of Woerth, it is said that at the third charge of the cuirassiers a horse was to be seen going at full speed with a headless rider. The mutilated corpse was that of M. de la Futzen de Lacarre, Colonel of the third regiment of the French cuirassiers, who had been decapitated by a cannon ball. Most people, on reading this, would declare that it was a mere sensation paragraph, totally devoid of truth. Such an occurrence, however, would not by any means seem an impossibility. Not longago we directed our readers' attention to an interesting article published by Dr. Brinton, surgeon to the Philadelphia Hospital, on the instantaneous rigidity which forms the accasional accompaniment of sudden and violent death, such as results from wounds of the head or heart. The startling phenomenon sometimes seen on the battle-field, of the retention in death of the last attitude in life, has not escaped the observation of military surgeons, although the facts connected therewith have not been studed with the attention that they deserve. Those who are familiar with the descriptions that were given of the Crimean battle-field, particularly that of Inkerman, will remember that the various attitudes and the expression of the features of the dead were dwelt upon. The report of M. Chenu contains a short account, chiefly based upon the communications of M M Armand and Perler of the attitudes of the dead in battle during the Crimean and Italian campaigns. At Magenta a Hungarian hussar, killed at the same time as his horse, remained almost in saddle, resting on his right side, the point of sabre carried forward, as at the charge. This rigidity generally follows sudden and violent deaths, but not invariably. Dr. Brinton, among his cases, gives one of a very striking kind. He says that a man wounded in the left breast at Belmont, Missouri, found a stray mule, which he succeeded in mounting. While in the act of riding the animal he died; but his corpse retained the upright mounted position, and on its becoming necessary to appropriate the mule to the use of a living wounded soldier, the body was found to be so firmly and rigidly set as to demand a certain amount of positive force to free the mule from the clasp of the legs. Dr. Brinton is led to conclude, from his own observations and those of others, that this battle-field-rigidity is developed at the moment of death, and that the cadaveric attitudes are those of the last moment and act of life.

"BAD BLOOD."

"The Life is the Blood."

FROM it we derive our strength, beauty, and mental capabilities. It is the centre of our being, around which revolves all that makes existence happy. When this source is corrupted the painful effects are visible in many shapes, prominent among which is

SCROFULA.

This is a taint or infection of the human organism, and probably no one is wholly free from it. It exhibits itself in various shapes—as Ulcers and Sores, Decayed Bones, Diseased Scalp, Sore Eyes, Weak and Diseased Joints, St. Vitus' Dance, Foul Discharges from the Nostrils, Eruptions, Glandular Swellings, Throat Affections, Rheumatism, Heart Affections, Nervous Disorders, Barreness, Disorders of the Womb, Dropsy, Syphilitic Affeions, Liver Complaint, Salt Rheum, Dyspepsia, Neuralgia, Loss of Manhood and General Debility.

It has been the custom to treat these diseases with Mercury and other Mineral substances, which, though ometimes producing a cure, often prove injurious and entails misery in after life. The long known injurious properties of these so called alteratives and purifiers has led the philanthropical man of science to explore the arena of nature, the result of which has been the discovery of a vegetable product which posses the power of eradicating these Taints from the Blood.

COMPOUND EXTRACT OF

SARSAPARILLA AND QUEEN'S DELIGHT

Is the acknowledged antidote to all Blood Diseases. By its use the afflictions above enumerated can be permanently banished, and the Source—the Centre of Life—the Blood, be maintained in all its purity and vigor.

For Diseases produced by the use of Mercury, and for Syphilis, with its train of evils, this compound is the only sure antidote.

To the poor creature, enfeebled in mind and body, by secret practices, whose nerves are unstrung, and countenance downcast

The Sarsaparilla

AND

QUEEN'S DELIGHT

is a blessing. Try it fairly, and your nerves will be restored to their wonted vigor, and your dejected countenance be made radiant with the consciousness of Restored Manhood.

Being free from violent minerals, it is adapted to general use. The old and young may use it; the most delicate female at any time may take it; the tender infant, who may have inherited disease, will be cured by it.

For Purifying the Blood

USE

DR. TUTT'S

Extract of Sarsaparilla

AND

QUEEN'S DELIGHT.

When used in the Spring it removes all humors which infest the system; and banishes the languor and debility peculiar to that season of the year. It acts promptly on the

Liver and Kidneys,

Producing a healthy action of the important organs by which all the impurities of the system are carried off, and the result is

PATENT FEB. 12, 1867

AS General Agent for the State of Georgia for the above, I beg to call the attention of farmers to them.

THE NEEDLE COTTON GIN

Was placed before the public last season as an original and entirely new machine. It had, as all new machines have, some defects, the chief one being in the needles lacking strength. This weakness is entirely removed, and I offer to the public for the present season, in the Needle Gin, one that combines with its superiority in all other regards, durability.

Gins sold last season will be supplied with entire outfit of the improved needles, free of cost.

THE EAGLE PRESS

FOR CONG[illegible]
(SEVENTH DIST[illegible])
Gen. P. M[illegible] Young,
[illegible]RTOW.

OF [illegible] REPRESENTATIVES.
FOR [illegible] E. F. Hoge.
Captain Harry Jackson.
Dr. J. S. Wilson.

☞ General Lucius Polk, of Tennessee, is dangerously ill.

☞ The Telegraph and Messenger says the Macon Fair opened with a rather slim attendance the first day, but a large crowd was expected the second day.

☞ Our contemporary, the Macon Telegraph, has got its list of Congressional candidates wrong. It has mixed up the 5th and 7th Districts.

☞ Henry S. Foote, of Tennessee, has nearly completed a history of "Venice and the Venetians." It will be a work of three volumes.

☞ The Republican Banner says, look out for a crop of Georgia outrages in Forney's two dailies, between this and our election.

More Legislative Bungling.

The Legislature is about to make a new judicial circuit out of the South-Western.

We are authorized by Judge Vason to say that the bar and the people in that circuit desire no such change. It is a simple movement to make a new office for some man, enlarge Bullock's range of appointment, and ease the labor of officers.

☞ Governor Bullock, in his organ, pretends that the statement that Chief Justice Brown opposed the Election Bill, is a Democratic misrepresentation of that official.

This paper made the statement upon the authority of Judge Brown; and we are glad to be able to bear testimony that this master-spirit of the Republican party in Georgia, has dared to denounce this indefensible wrong.

Tennessee.

The campaign in Tennessee has opened briskly. General Brown, the Democratic candidate, spoke in Chattanooga on the 1st. The Radical candidate—Wisener, "Old Aunty," as they call him—failed to put in an appearance.

General Brown declared secession to be a dead issue, but contended vigorously for the restoration of State sovereignty, as the only possible hope of the country. He quoted largely from Chief Justices Marshall and Jay, from Clay, Crittenden, Douglass, Lincoln, and Andrew Jackson.

The Rome Fair.

We have received from Mr. B. F. Jones, the energetic Secretary, an invitation to the Rome Fair. Rome last year had the credit of getting up the liveliest, best-arranged and best-managed Fair in the State. It was admirably conducted. The Fair of this year comes off from the 11th to the 14th of October, and it will undoubtedly be a great improvement on last year's Fair.

There are no more wide-awake, progressive and enterprising people than the citizens of Rome and the surrounding country. Whatever they do, they do well. Whatever they take hold of, they carry through. And their Fair, we confidently predict, will be a good one.

Our Crowded Columns.

Our correspondents must bear patiently with us. The advertising pressure on our columns is so great that we are cramped to the very smallest space. The business season is now opening. The enormous, solid and increasing circulation of THE CONSTITUTION presents a chance for advertisers that is being used liberally.

During the long, dull summer we kept up our reading matter at large expense. The result has been a heavy and steady increase in circulation every week. Our paper has gradually broadened its base of operations. Our advertising business men can now reap the benefit of our summer labors. We can offer them an army of readers and patrons not surpassed in means, intelligence, enterprise and respectability any where.

We call the attention of our business men to these facts.

A Case of Richness.

It is undenied that Judge McCay, of the Supreme Court of this State, drew up the Election Bill. It is also undenied that this bill conflicts with the constitution of the State.

Now, as Judge McCay was a member of the convention that made the constitution, and as he has sworn to obey and enforce the constitution, as Judge of our highest court, he was either ignorant of the constitution when he drew the bill, or he intentionally drafted a statute that violates it. In either case, he stands in no enviable light. His legal ignorance in one case, and his disregard of his official oath in the other, form no pleasant dilemma. He is gored on both sides, and he is welcome to either punishment.

But this is not all. There may be an after clap more mortifying still to this Radical jurist. Suppose this law comes before him for construction, as it most probably will. It will be an agreeable richness when he has to pronounce his own political brat a legal bastard. And it will be no laurel as a lawyer or pride as a politician to him that he advised his party to solemnly violate the constitution under which he wears the ermine, and whose integrity he is sworn to respect.

We leave him to his own reflections now. We shall have more to say of this again.

A grand fair is to be held in Athens, beginning on the 10th of November, and continuing for several successive evenings. The object of this fair is to raise funds to aid in erecting a monument to the memory of the loved ones who fell from that place, and its vicinity, in defense of Southern rights.

King William.

We have to thank Phillips & [illegible]y, for the October number of the [illegible] sketch which is an exceedingly [illegible] King William, the Prussi[illegible] of that clever magazinis[illegible] the King

The article gives [illegible] was then the old King. [illegible] old man of crowned at Ko[illegible] unpopular as the a portly, [illegible] popular liberty. His sixty-five [illegible] William, died childless, believed [illegible] throne, and William took broth[illegible] the supreme disgust of his [illegible] heavenly gift, placing it on his [illegible] his own hands.

[illegible]reign has been almost unceasingly popular. A truthful, plain, old soldier and respected thus far, he has yet carried out to the full extent his divine right notions. Accepting his likes and dislikes as ordinances of Heaven, the resolute old fanatic has never yielded a jot to anybody's persuasion. So despotic was he that his son, the Crown Prince, who has now so much war glory, made a public protest against his father's illiberal policy.

But with the Sadowa success, when he and Napoleon humbled Austria, began a change in the popularity of his organ, and his present extraordinary triumph, must make the old fellow more beloved and admired.

The King is said to have lived squabblingly with his Queen Augusta.

McCarthy winds up his smart sketch with the following summary:

> But I cannot make a hero out of stout King William, although he has bravery enough of the common, military kind, to suit any of the heroes of the "Nibelungen Lied." He never would, if he could, render any service to liberty; he cannot understand the elements and first principles of popular freedom; to him the people are always, as a child, to be kept in leading strings and guided, and if at all boisterous or naughty, smartly birched and put in a dark corner.
> There is nothing cruel about King William; that is to say, he would not willingly hurt any human creature, and is, indeed, rather kind-hearted and humane than otherwise. He is as utterly incapable of the mean spites and shabby cruelties of the great Frederick, whose statue stands so near his palace, as he is incapable of the savage brutalities and indecencies of Frederick's father. He is, in fact, simply a dull old disciplinarian, saturated through and through with the traditions of the feudal party of Germany, his highest merit being the fact that he keeps his word—that he is "a still strong man," who "cannot lie;" his noblest fortune being the happy chance which called on him to lead his country's battles, instead of leaving him free to contend against, and perhaps for the time to crush, his country's aspirations after domestic freedom. Kind Heaven has allowed him to become the champion and the representative of German unity—that unity which is Germany's immediate and supreme need, calling for the postponement of every other claim and desire; and this part he has played like a man, a soldier, and a king. But one can hardly be expected to forget all the past, to forget what Humboldt and Varnhagen von Ense wrote, what Jacobi and Waldeck spoke, what King William did in 1848, and what he said in 1861; and unless we forget all this, and a great deal more to the same effect, we can hardly help acknowledging that but for the fortunate conditions which allowed him to prove himself the best friend of German unity, he would probably have proved himself the worst enemy of German liberty.

War.

The prospect of a general war in Europe has elicited a large quantity and great variety of fine writing. Any new and important phase of the war opens up a new and gushing sluice of the very tallest kind of rhetoric.

The prospect of more extended slaughter seems to excite little, if any, remonstrance or deprecation. Most of the newspaper commentators cry out in fervent tones to let the thing rip.

Our enthusiastic contemporary, the Chicago Times, thus lets out:

> Among genuine democrats, the intelligence was hailed with a general shout of joy. Let Russia go in. Let Austria, and Italy, and every European monarchy go in. Let Europe be involved in a conflagration. It is better, far better, than that a single despot should triumph upon the ruins of liberty on a single league of earth where despotism has been overthrown. Let conflagration rage, for it is only from the ashes of thrones that liberty can arise.

A Good Hit.

Our contemporary, the Augusta Constitutionalist, makes a good point in the following paragraph. It ridicules the reason of the Bullock organ for calling the election bill constitutional, viz: because Grant's Attorney General opposed it; and it then takes off his Accidency, the Attorney General:

> Meanwhile, what an awful jackass that individual at Washington village, in Wilkes county, who played fantastic tricks with the tail of Akerman's mule. That so-called "Kux-Klux outrage" may have been bad for the mule, but it was a god-send for Akerman. It brought him into prominence with the great Horse Doctor at the head of affairs, and, as a trump card in politics, beats Sumner's backbone all hollow. What a load of remorse must that man carry who tortured the tail of Akerman's mule!

The New York Central Park.

The Board of Commissioners are out with their thirteenth annual report, which contains many interesting facts concerning the Park and its effects upon the growth and prosperity of the city. We have frequently called attention to the immense benefits of public parks to great cities, and urged our city authorities to take hold of the matter, and give us public grounds. We extract from a condensed statement in the Herald:

> The benefits of the Park to the surrounding property is simply demonstrated in tables, showing the increased valuations in each of the three wards surrounding the park. In 1856 the valuation was $26,429,565, in 1869 the total was $150,224,743, showing an increase in twelve years of $132,795,178. In 1869, at the established rate of taxation, (237), the yield on the increased valuation was $2,810,150.
> THE TOTAL COST OF THE PARK,
> including the cost of the ground ($5,028,844.) up to the first of January, was $10,804,231. The annual interest on the cost of the land and improvement of the Park up to January 1, at six per cent., is $648,253. Deducting one per cent. on $399,300 of the stock issued at five per cent. ($3,993) gives the total interest $652,246. The excess of increased tax in the three wards over the interest on cost of land and improvements is $2,157,903. The receipts from sales of products of the Park during the year was $6,612,
> The total number of pedestrians entering the Park during the year was 3,265,541; equestrians, 54,611; vehicles, 1,340,697; velocipedes, 8,714. The largest number of pedestrians in any month was in August, 561,963; the largest number of equestrians was in May, 8,811; the largest number of vehicles was in May, 148,310; the largest number of velocipedes was in May, 2,786. Allowing two extra for each vehicle, the total number of visitors in 1869 was 7,330,957
> Besides the above, the book contains records of the changes in barometer and thermometer, direction and velocity of the wind, clouds and rain, or snow, at several hours during every day in the year. The entire work is admirably arranged, and will undoubtedly become a standard and much-sought-for acquisition to sources of information.

GEORGIA LEGISLATURE,
HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES,
ATLANTA, GA., October 4, 1870.

Editor Constitution: I see that you still continue to publish extracts from Democratic journals of the State, in which those members who were absent at the time the Election Bill came up are accused of bribery and other offenses. I consider it due to myself to make the following personal explanation:

On Friday before the passage of the bill I paired off with Goodwin, of Bartow, on all measures save the Relief and Appropriation acts, and to these I did not object. I was called home on account of severe sickness in my family. When the Election bill did come up Mr. Goodwin voted, stating that he had reserved the right to vote upon this bill and upon relief. When upon reconsideration my friend objected to his voting, he withdrew his vote on the motion to reconsider. I had entered into a written agreement to prevent a mistake, and thus was Mr. Goodwin prevented from giving aid to the measure which I so earnestly oppose. Hoping that you will show your usual readiness to correct a mistake,

I remain, yours truly,
C. C. HUMBER,
Representative from Stewart.

Green Line Excursionists—Reception at Louisville—Departure for Cincinnati—Arrival—Reception Speech—Industrial Exposition—Grand Parade of Fire Department—Magnificent Banquet.

CINCINNATI, September 30, 1870.

Editors Constitution: My last was from Louisville, which we reached at 12 o'clock M. Here we met a warm Kentucky welcome. Mr. Porter, President of the Board of Trade, represented the merchants and manufacturers in a felicitous and appropriate address, and referred in complimentary terms to the hospitalities extended to the citizens of Louisville and other western cities during the progress South of the Green Line excursionists the past winter.

Colonel Seward, of Georgia, was very happy in his response.

At 2 o'clock, P. M., we found that all the available omnibusses and public and private carriages in the city had been placed at our disposal—the chief object of which was, however, to furnish a pleasant and rapid means of transit between railway terminal points, and which had the effect to present an unusual display of equipages, that stretched for a distance of near half mile along the beautiful streets of Louisville.

This array called many a fair face to the neighboring windows and invited many delicate feet to adjacent verandahs.

Seated in the magnificent coaches provided for us, we sped upon rapid wheels for many miles, along the picturesque banks of the meandering Licking, passing in our onward flight, here and there on either side, enchanting villas that were rendered more pleasing to the eye by the lavish charms that nature had lent.

I am forced to bring into requisition the hackneyed term, "continued ovation," as expressive of the many cordial and pleasant demonstrations that have been accorded to us since our advent into the region of blue grass, clover and the vine.

At 6 o'clock P. M., the long train arrived at the Covington depot, where the Southern delegations were met by the committee of reception from Cincinnati, and we were escorted in carriages to the headquarters of the committee, where a speech of welcome was made by Colonel Rowland, President of the Chamber of Commerce, and replied to by Colonel McMasters, of South Carolina.

After supper was served, the guests were invited to visit the halls of the Industrial Exposition—an immense structure, covering an area of two-and-a-half acres. The stupendous fabric was replete with thousands of specimens of chemical, agricultural and industrial contrivances, as well as with elegant displays of the handiworks of fair hands—all presented in the most artistic and attractive forms. The scene was greatly enhanced in beauty by the charms that thousands of gas jets and the presence of hundreds of the Queen City's fair daughters lent to the occasion.

A visit to the celebrated Institute Fair in New York in October last, had the effect to incline me to the opinion that I would not soon again witness such an imposing exposition, but the result of the display last evening sufficed to dissipate the erroneous impression. By an ingenious arrangement, grottos were improvised, and cascades, in all their unique and refreshing loveliness, greeted the eyes of all who resorted hither to circle amidst the mazes and wonders of this famous hall.

A grand parade of the Cincinnati Fire Department, consisting of some sixteen or eighteen steam Fire Engines, will occur to-day in Fountain Square, in honor of the guests of the city. Sixteen engines will give an exhibition, all playing simultaneously.

At 12 M., to-day, the "Green Liners" will repair to the headquarters of the committee, where carriages will be at their service, when drives until 4 o'clock, P. M., will be the order of the day. Many suburban residences and other objects of interest are indicated as worthy of inspection.

To-night the grand banquet will be tendered to the Southern delegates. It is being gotten up on a scale commensurate with the large hospitality of the Cincinnatians, and altogether worthy of those to whom it is intended to do honor.

The officers of the various telegraph lines have generously offered the free use of their lines to the Southern excursionists, for "family and social purposes."

Green Line Excursionists—Brilliant Display of Fire Engines—Suburban Drives and Incidents—Hon. G. H. Pendleton Entertains—The Banquet a Grand Success.

CINCINNATI, October 1, 1870.

Editor Constitution: The display of the Cincinnati Fire Department, yesterday, as the streets were paraded, and as the companies formed the procession, and marched and countermarched, together with a full turn out of the police, presented an imposing appearance.

The respective engines were marshaled along the banks of the canal, while the uniformed police organization took positions in the rear to preserve order.

Thousands of spectators witnessed the novel scene. Twelve or fifteen powerful engines, under full pressure of steam, and discharging high into the air immense columns of water, was a sight to be coveted, even by those who are familiar with the operations and achievements of the powerful machines that have been carried to no greater degree of perfection and efficiency than in the Queen City of the West. The exhibition was worthy of the occasion, and contributed much to the enjoyment and pleasure of those whom it was designed to amuse and gratify, and who fully appreciated the efforts of the citizens of this great city to resort to all sources and appliances that might promise contributions to the end sought to be attained.

At 1 o'clock, P. M., seventy-five carriages were brought into requisition, and arrayed in front of the Burnet House, for the accommodation of the Green Line excursionists. The programme was a suburban drive. As far as practicable, in each vehicle was seated a member of the local committee, whose object was to perform the kindly office of cicerone; and thus the excursionists, in addition to the exhilration that the drive afforded, secured the delicate attentions of those who were prepared to furnish information in reference to the names of the proprietors of the elegant mansions that adorn the surrounding hills, and to enlighten their guests as to all such objects of interest as abound in and around this enterprising city.

Our pleasing journey led us through the bewitching environs of Eden Park, Avondale, Walnut Hills and Clifton. Now and then our long column of shining vehicles were required to halt, and their occupants to enter some palatial structure in order to partake of such hospitalities as these generous people know so well how to provide and dispense. The residences of Mr. Robert Mitchell and Mr. William Resor were scenes of sumptuous entertainments. The former has grown opulent in the furniture business; the latter has amassed a fortune as an iron monger. The Hon. George H. Pendleton also threw open his doors to this epicurean cavalcade, and the profession of hospitality at his beautiful mansion but attested the cordial greeting that was tendered by the distinguished son of Ohio.

The banquet provided last evening at Pike's Grand Opera Hall, as a compliment to the Southern visitors, was the crowning entertainment of the series, and at which Hon. W. S. Groesbeck, G. H. Pendleton, and other distinguished representative men, made speeches. A description of this grand entertainment, and the addresses made thereat, etc., must be reserved for another occasion. In response to the toast, "The Green Line," Colonel A. Pope, of your city, made the following well-timed speech. Mr. P. is a gentleman possessed of unusual executive qualities.

Slashing off Political Heads.

WASHINGTON, October 1.—Both the administration and the Congressional Republican Committees have repudiated Senator Schurz and his Liberal Conservative party in Missouri. The Treasury and Post-office Departments are engaged in overhauling all Missouri appointments made on the strength of recommendations of Senator Schurz, Congressmen Tenkelbery, Dyer and Asher, and the work of removing posmasters and other officials in Missouri has commenced. The patronage of the Executive Department has been placed at the disposal of Senator Drake, who is in interest of the Radical State ticket. Letters have been addressed by several Collectors of Customs to Secretary Boutwell, asking if they should permit assessments for political purposes to be made on their clerks, and he has replied in the affirmative.

The Next Congress.

The Louisville Commercial, a Radical paper, sets down the following figures for the next Congress:

	Dem.	Rep.
New England	5	22
Middle states	31	29
Northwest	42	44
Pacific	3	3
Border States	15	12
Reconstructed States	41	15
Total	137	125

These estimates, as made by a Republican paper, foreshadow an unexampled revolution against the Radical party.

☞ There was a fine fight in the Republican Congressional Convention in the Third Missouri District, growing out of an eminent Republican present as a delegate, denouncing the German delegates as "the d—d lop-eared Dutch." No nomination was made, the Sheriff adjourning the convention.

☞ Having been interviewd on that subject, the convicts in the New Jersey State Prison think Grant's administration a success.

PRUSSIA.

BERLIN, October 4.—A fuller synopsis of Bismarck's circular to Favre and the representation of what passed at their interview, may not have been intentionally wrong. The conversation was long, and many questions were discussed. Bismarck did say the new Moselle District would certainly be protected, and including arondissements of Saarbrucken, Chatteau Salins, Saargemund, Metz and Thionville would be demanded by Prussia, but he took pains to say this might not be all the territory exacted.

Favre said Strasbourg was the key to the Hause—not explaining whether German or French Hause.

Favre, in a previous correspondence, said he was willing to pay, as the price of peace, all the money France had, but refused to listen to any territorial surrender, and added if such cession was an indispensible requirement of Prussian negotiations, it was useless, as it involved France in dishonor. Bismarck remarked to Favre they were terms such as France had forced upon Italy and exacted of Germany without previous war, and that the honor of France was not keener than that of other people.

Favre declined to recognize precedents or see how little the honor of France was concerned with the preservation of the territorial thefts of Louis the Fourteenth. The question of an armistice was only discussed at Ferrara. The statement therefore that I had refused an armistice at the proceeding interview is false. It was agreed at Ferrara that an armistice would be possible if France would give the Prussians guarantees against destroying the advantages of positions she had earned in the war. These guarantees included the retention of the fortresses on the line of communication, and the handing over of the fortifications of Paris pending negotiations.

It would have been impossible for Prussia to allow Paris free intercourse with the country, as it might thus have received supplies and reinforcements.

Favre refused the terms, but promised to consult his colleagues in Paris. The programme which he carried back included an armistice of fifteen or twenty days; to permit the assembling of the Constituent Assembly; the maintenance of the military statues before Paris; the continuation of hostilities under certain limitations; the surrender of Strasbourg, Toul and Bitsche.

The refusal of these terms must convince mankind that the French Government believed their acceptance would produce peace, which was not desired by them.

THE RACE YESTERDAY.—Archer's horse, "P. M. B. Young," rode by John Farris yesterday at Oglethorpe Park, won the race. Kenny's mare, "Lucy," lost the first heat, but came out second best. Wooten's "Stampede" lost each heat.

MESSRS. A. C. & B. F. WYLY have removed to No. 38, on Alabama stree, next door to the Express office, where they have opened with a large stock of groceries and produce. They are reliable and energetic merchants, and bound to succeed in doing a good trade.

COLONEL ADAIR will sell this evening, at 4 o'clock, the Johnson property, on the Western and Atlantic Railroad, and eight lots, on Jones' Hill, by the Third Baptist Church. These are very valuable building lots. Those wanting nice, cheap houses in this growing part of the city, should attend this sale.

Mr. Editor; I learn that a rumor was put in circulation to-day that I voted for delegates to the Senatorial Convention, supposed to be friendly to Major George Hillyer, for Senator from the 35th District, which is false and without the least semblance of truth, come from whatever source it may.
THOS. J. SPEER.
October 4, 1870.

FULTON COUNTY NOMINATIONS.—The following delegates to the Senatorial Convention were nominated yesterday:

Clark Howell, W M Butt, T W J Hill, A B Culberson, T E Brady, John P Mays.

Colonel E F Hoge, Dr J S Wilson, and Captain Harry Jackson were nominated for Representatives.

UP to 1 o'clock this morning, the votes for county officers had not all been counted out.

CORRECTION.—Captain Whit Anderson, not General Tige, is a candidate for that splendid saddle-cloth and saddle, belonging to table No. 4 at the Catholic Fair. We also omitted to mention the name of Lieutenant Tim Murphy, who is also a candidate for the same.

It was not a china set, but a silver dinner and tea set, to be raffled. These articles may now be seen at Lawshe's.

THE Augusta Constitutionalist of the the 2d says:

"We had the pleasure, yesterday, to meet with an old acquaintance and former citizen of Augusta. We refer to Mr. John M. Gannon. He was the whilom host of the Globe Hotel during his residence in this city, and contributed largely to build up the reputation of that excellent establishment. During the war, Mr. Gannon was noted for his hospitality to the boys who wore the grey, and no heart that ever beat beneath the shamrock more truly sympathized with the Lost cause. Notwithstanding this, his charity was eminently catholic in spirit, and more than once during those days that tried men's souls did our friend "do good to them that did hate" us, and feed the Federal prisoners as they passed through our city; this, too, despite the threats of certain stay-at-homes, who were very bitter, in word, toward the Yankees.

After the cessation of armed hostilities Mr. Gannon removed to Atlanta, where, by his attention to business, he succeeded in placing himself in the front rank of the dry goods merchants of that city. Recently, in consequence of failing health, he was necessitated to dispose of his interests to Captain John Keely, formerly of the 19th Georgia Regiment—a worthy successor.

While rejoicing with our friend in his prosperity, we condole with him the loss of a loved sister, Mrs. Ellen Roche, wife of Mr. William Roche, of Atlanta.

AN ACT to empower the Mayor and Council of the city of Atlanta to establish and maintain a system of public schools within said city, and for other purposes:

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Georgia, That the Mayor and Council of the city of Atlanta be, and they are hereby, empowered to establish and maintain a system of public schools, which shall be free to all the children within said city.

Section 2. Be it further enacted, That the said Mayor and Council shall have power to impose and collect the requisite taxes, and to issue and negotiate the requisite bonds or otherwise engage the credit, and apply the resources of the city to raise revenue for the establishment and maintenance of said system of public schools.

Section 3. Be it further enacted, That the said Mayor and Council shall by ordinance or otherwise, in their discretion, provide for appropriate agencies to regulate, supervise and carry on said system of schools and render the same efficient.

Section 4. Be it further enacted, That the bonds issued by the city shall not exceed one hundred thousand dollars for said purpose, and the said city shall be bound for the redemption of such bonds as may be issued under this act, as it now is, and shall be bound for all bonds or obligations heretofore issued by the Mayor and Council or by their authority, and they shall assess such tax annually as shall be necessary to pay all interest due upon the bonded debt of the said city, and to pay the bonds when the principal is due.

Section 5. Be it further enacted, That all laws and parts of laws militating against the same are hereby repealed.

THE DEMOCRATIC NOMINATING CONVENTION YESTERDAY.—At 12 o'clock, M., yesterday, a large number of citizens assembled at the City Hall for the purpose of nominating Democratic candidates for the House of Representatives, the State and county offices, and also delegates to the Senatorial Convention, to meet on Saturday next.

On motion of Colonel A. B. Culberson, Colonel R. F. Maddox was called to the chair, and T. P. Westmoreland requested to act as secretary.

Colonel Culberson read the following agreement between the candidates and offered it as a resolution:

Three ballot boxes to be prepared, in one of which votes for Senatorial Convention are to be deposited; in another ballots for Representatives, and in the third the votes for County Officers. The voting at these three boxes to be conducted at the same time, and to continue for four hours from the commencement of the balloting. Each vote shall be numbered or marked by one of the Managers before they are deposited in the box, and any found therein without such number or mark, shall be rejected in the count.

Colonel R. F. Maddox agreed to as chairman, and requested to secure the services of three managers for each box. A plurality of the votes cast shall determine the selection of candidates and delegates, and in case of a tie, the chairman shall give the casting vote, notwithstanding he may have once voted. Any vote finding its way into the wrong box will be thrown out.

Major John H. Steele moved the appointment of a business committee to consider the matter.

Captain Milledge called the previous question on Colonel Culberson's resolution. Carried.

Colonel Wellborn moved that four hours be allowed for the balloting to continue. Carried.

The Chairman read the names of the Senatorial candidates, as follows: George Hillyer, Dr. C. L. Redwine, and J. T. Glenn.

On motion, the following managers were appointed by the Chair:

Senatorial Box—J. R. Wallace, A. A. Wilson, and R. Crawford.

Representatives' Box—C. A. Collier, Wm. Wilson, and T. P. Fleming.

County Box—R. H. Caldwell, George Hammond, and J. M. Rendleman.

Judge Hoyt moved to adjourn until the first Monday in November. Lost.

Colonel E. F. Hoge moved that the meeting proceed with the balloting. Carried.

At 4½ o'clock the Chair announced the polls closed.

On motion of Dr. J. G. Westmoreland, the city papers were requested to publish the proceedings of this meeting.

On motion of Colonel Hoge, the Managers were required to report to the Chairman the result of the election.

There being no further business, the meeting adjourned sine die.

R. F. MADDOX, Chairman.
T. P. WESTMORELAND, Secretary.

THE DAY OF ATONEMENT.—To-day is celebrated by our Jewish fellow-citizens as the Day of Atonement. In the 23d chapter of Leviticus, from the 26th to the 32d verse, inclusive, is given the Divine command for the observance of the day: "And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying, Also, on the 10th day of this seventh month there shall be a day of atonement: it shall be a holy convocation with you; and ye shall afflict your souls, and offer an offering made by fire unto the Lord. And ye shall do no work in that same day; for it is a day of atonement, to make an atonement for you before the Lord your God. Ye shall do no manner of work; it shall be a statute forever throughout your generations in all your dwellings. It shall be unto you a Sabbath of rest, and ye shall afflict your souls; in the ninth day of the month at even from even unto even, shall ye celebrate your Sabbath."

In the Talmud this day is called great fasting or the day. This great fast, like all among the Jews, commences at sunset of the previous day and lasts until sunset of the next, or from sunset to sunset. The ceremonies formerly observed were of a very laborious character, especially for the High Priest, who had to prepare himself during the previous seven days in nearly solitary confinement for the peculiar services that awaited him, and abstain during that period from all that could render him unclean or disturb his devotions. The most remarkable ceremony of the day was the entrance of the High Priest into the Sanctuary—a thing not allowed on any other day, and which Paul alludes to in the sixth and seventh verses of the ninth chapter of Hebrews: "Now when these things were thus ordained, the priests went always into the first tabernacle, accomplishing the service of God. But into the second went the High Priest alone once every year, not without blood, which he offered for himself and for the errors of the people."

According to the Talmud, the entrance of the High Priest into the Sanctuary took place four different times. The first time he was provided with the golden censer, and the vessel filled with incense, when, after having entered, he placed the former between the two poles of the Tabernacle and put the incense upon the coals. This done, he went out backwards, so as not to turn his back on the Sanctuary. At his second entrance he took with him the blood of the bullock which he had offered in expiation for his own sins and those of the other Priests, placed himself between the poles of the Tabernacle, dipped his finger in the blood and sprinkled it seven times below and once above the mercy seat. This done, he left the bason with the blood behind, and withdrew again.

The third time, he entered with the blood of the ram which he had offered for the sins of the nation, with which he sprinkled towards the veil of the Tabernacle eight times, and having mixed it with the blood of the bullock, he sprinkled again towards the horns of the altar of incense seven times, and once above it towards the east, after which he poured out the whole on the floor of the altar of burnt offering, having again left the sanctuary and taken with him the basons of blood.

The fourth time he entered merely to fetch back the censer and vessels of incense; and having returned, he washed his hands and performed the other ceremonies of the day.

The ceremonies of worship peculiar to this day were: The High Priest, in his Pontifical dress, confessed his own sins and those of his family, for the expiation of which he offered a bullock, on which he laid them. Two goats were set aside, one of which, by lot, was sacrificed to Jehovah, while the other was set at liberty, and sent to the desert burdened with the sins of the people. Both goats were to be alike in color, stature and age. Most of the Jews wore a white gown, while all were compelled to stand during the day, without shoes or even slippers. At the present day, the Jews abstain from food from sunset to sunset, and strictly observe the fast. All utensils and household apparatus connected with the daily supply of food, are put out of sight, and they abstain, not only from eating, but from the very appearance of eating.

Our Jewish friends in this city observe the Atonement Day to-day with their accustomed fidelity to the ordinances of the church—with a fidelity that other denominations might imitate to great profit. The exercises of the day are conducted by Rev. Mr. Bonnheim, Mr. Mesko, and Mr. Silverberg.

AMERICAN SUNDAY SCHOOL WORKER.—The September number of this journal, published by J. W. McIntyre, St. Louis, has the following with many other articles, beside selections, Editorial, and Lessons for each Sabbath, with exposition for the use of Sabbath School Teachers: "The Sundy School Teacher a Debtor to Himself," by E D Jones; "The Great Value of Visible Illustration," by Rev. H. C. McCook; "I Never Loved Children;" "Prayer," by E. W. Pattison; "Moral Dignity of the Teacher's Office;" "The Angel of the Hearth."

The Sunday School Worker is the best periodical of the kind in the United States, and should be in every household. We want Sunday School workers. The difficulty is that too many engage in the work from other motives than that of pure love of the work.

IN ALL malarious districts there is an urgent and special necessity for a protection against intermittent and remittent fevers and other maladies superinduced by local causes. Where there is foul air, there is almost generally unwholesome water. Against the evil effects of the malarious diseases incident to our Southern climate, no better preparation has ever been offered, that is at once pleasant to the taste and an antidote to malaria in all its forms, than the celebrated European tonic, Lippman's Great German Bitters.

AGREEABLY SURPRISED.—We were surprised in passing along, the well-known firm of the Messrs. Steinheimer Bros. and politely invited to examine their well-selected stock of fancy dry goods. We admit that their new patterns and designs of ladies' dress goods cannot be surpassed. Their stock of housekeepers' goods, such as sheetings, pillow-casings, towels and doyleas is ample and complete; and, by the way, we were informed by one of the proprietors, that they intended to make the latter a speciality in their line. In fact, we would advise all parties wishing to purchase goods to give this establishment a call before purchasing elsewhere, their motto being "Quick sales and small profits."

P. S.—We would advise the ladies in particular to give Steinheimer Bros., New York Store, a call as they pass along Whitehall street. oct2 3t

REAPING NATURE'S HARVEST.—Hundreds of men and boys are now employed by the association of New York capitalists known as the Sea Moss Farine Co., in reaping from the rocks on the Irish coast the edible marine lichen which, as prepared under the name of Rand's Sea Moss Farine, has already become one of the important manufactured staples of the American produce market. The patent for this cheap and delicious food element is scarcely a year old, yet its use is all but universal. Every grocery and general store, and every respectable druggist establishment in the country finds it necessary to keep a supply of the article. Housekeepers declare that the quantity of exquisite custard, blanc mange, light pudding, cream, jelly, etc., producible from the Farine, exceeds by one-half that obtainable from any other gelatinous agent used in cookery. The central depot is at 52 Park Place, New York. oct4-deod1w&w1t

BEAR IN MIND.—When disease has undermined the health, and the physical system has become prostrated, a stimulant that will not only strengthen, but remove the cause, should be immediately resorted to. Mental distress is also a fruitful source of the breaking down of the constitution, and the ravages of this enemy to health are truly alarming. For all such maladies Hostetter's Stomach Bitters have been found unsurpassed. By acting directly upon the digestive organs, they remove the heavy, disagreeable feeling after eating, so often complained of by persons of a delicate temperament. As soon as digestion is restored, the patient finds his strength increasing, and his general health improved.

Thousands of persons certify that it may be relied on in all cases of weakness or nervous debility attendant upon sedentary habits. The generality of Bitters are so disagreeable to the taste that they are objectionable to a weak stomach. This is not the case with Hostetter's Bitters, which will be found mild and extremely pleasant. Balsamic plants, barks and roots contribute their restorative juices to render it soothing and strengthening. Its basis is the only pure stimulant which has ever been produced, containing no fusil oil, or any other deleterious element. The most careful and skillful chemists have analyzed the Bitters, and pronounce them harmless. This is scientific testimony; but the testimony of the hundreds of thousands who have experienced the preventive and curative effects of the great vegetable tonic and alterative of modern times is still more conclusive. In Fever and Ague, Dyspepsia, Billousness, Nervous Complaints, Chronic Complaints and general debility, it is as nearly infallible as anything in this fallible world can be.

When skies are starless, yet when day is done,
 When odors of the freshened sward are sweeter,
When light is dreamy round the sunken sun,
 At limit of grassy lane I met her.

She steals a pearly hand across the gate;
 My own its timid touch an instant flatters;
Below the glooming leaves we linger late,
 And gossip of a thousand airy matters.

I gladden that the hay is stored with luck;
 I smile to hear the pumpkin-bed is turning!
I mourn the lameness of her speckled duck;
 I marvel at the triumphs of her churning.

From cow to cabbage, and from horse to hen,
 I treat bucolics with my rustic charmer;
At heart the most unpastoral of men,
 Converted by this dainty little farmer.

And yet if one soft syllable I chance,
 Aslant below the glooming leaves we linger,
The pretty [illegible] to sparkles in her glance,
 And caution's in her white, uplifted finger.

O, happy tryst at blossom-time of stars!
 O, moments when the glad blood thrills and quickens!

Riot in the Gold Room.

THE GRAY-HEADED BROKERS AMAZED—THE SUB-COMMITTEE ENFORCING THE FASHIONS PRODIGIOUS DEMAND FOR ARCHITECTURAL HEAD-GEAR AT FULTON MARKET.

About a week ago the following notice was posted on the bulletin in the Gold Room in New York:

"NOTICE—All white hats found in the Board Room after the 25th of September, will be contraband of war, and will be treated accordingly.
By order of the Sub-Committee.

A similar notice was also given to the members of the Long Room, and all gentlemen known to be partial to white hats were served with a summons in legal form to "call" them in. But in spite of all the publicity given to the order of the Committee, the brokers in both the Long Room and the Gold Room appeared yesterday morning in summer style, either forgetting the order, or not realizing the power of the Sub-Committee. Things went along very quietly while business lasted, but late in the day dealings became few and far between, and the young bloods of the Long Room began to hunger for excitement. Shortly after three the fun burst forth in earnest. Ned Van Schaick was standing in the pit, vociferously offering to sell one share of Boston, Hartford and Erie, when the Chairman of the Sub-Committee rushed up in his rear, and with a kick of wonderful agility sent his new hat spinning to the other end of the room. This was the signal for the onslaught.

Instantly the air was filled with white hats; high hats, and low hats, slouched hats and stiff hats flew together in confusion, falling to the floor only to be kicked into the air again, their owners the while dolefully looking on the destruction of their tiles.

One old gentleman who was unlucky enough to have forgotten the order, stood within the circle at the moment of the onslaught, and no one who ever witnessed it will ever forget his blank gaze of amazement, not unmingled with indignation as he watched the gyrations of his highly polished beaver. Eventually a young broker found the ragged head-piece and returned it; but the old man nearly wept. "They'll swear I've been on a spree," he said; and, indeed, that hat looked as though it had been not on one but a dozen benders.

After demolishing all the white hats in the Long Room, a small army of brokers, comprising the Sub-Committee and a corps of volunteer aids, made a grand rush for the Gold Room. Here their entrance was feebly resisted, but in a moment they bore down all opposition and took full possession of the premises. They showed no mercy. Every white hat was remorselessly battered and torn, even to that marvel of head architecture worn by Mr. Akers, the Secretary of the Board. This gentleman made a noble resistance, and was not overpowered until he had put no less than six black hats in an unpresentable condition. Among his other feats of daring, he is represented to have held a broker at arm's length with one arm, while with the other he was defending his precious hat.

Under the Khedive—American Officers in the Egyptian Army.

An American officer, in the service of the Viceroy of Egypt, writes to the Herald: "We hope to be, and no doubt will be, of service to this country, and in a short time make the army of Egypt the best little army in the world. I have never seen such material. The soldiers are the finest looking men I have ever seen, well-behaved and subordinate. They would charge the gates of darkness. I am pleased to say the American officers are very popular with the soldiers and people. It was very different with the French officers who were here before us.

With regard to the American officers here, I will inform you that General C. P. Stone is the Chief of Staff; General A. W. Reynolds is Quartermaster, Commissary and Paymaster-General; General Loring is Inspector-General of all the infantry; General Sibley is Inspector-General of artillery; Colonel Rhett is Chief of Ordnance; Colonel Kennod is in charge of the coast defenses; Colonel F. A. Reynolds is Colonel of the light artillery, but is at present acting as Assistant Inspector-General; Zenlier is Inspector of Cavalry, General Mott, who had that position, having been transferred to the staff of the Viceroy.

While I am writing, a regiment of infantry is just passing. Their movements are like clock-work. I have visited most of the places of interest, and am much pleased with all I have seen. There is always something going on which interests us in the way of fetes and amusements. I am told the winter here is most delightful. The Viceroy expends large sums of money to amuse his people. We have one of the finest opera houses in the world. The Viceroy pays all expenses, and has the best performers in Europe engaged. He will have none but the prettiest women for performers. His balls are magnificent."

Bazaine Ready to Capitulate, if the Empire is Restored—Napoleon's Prophets.

LONDON, October 1.—Cable to the Herald.—A correspondent writes from Berlin on the 29th. The idea is strongly advocated that the surrender of Strasbourg is likely to produce a complete change in the war. It is said Bazaine is now willing to capitulate upon an offer by the Prussians to restore the Imperial Government and order and agree to peace.

The Metz support of Imperialists, soldiers and a majority of Bourgeoise and peasants, and well informed persons express the conviction that Napoleon, or his son, under the regency of the Empress, will be recalled to the throne, and Wilhelm's house is the rendezvous of distinguished guests of the Emperor. The hotels in the vicinity are crowded.

England—Non-Intervention for the Present.

LONDON, October 1.—The result of the Cabinet Council yesterday, according to the London Times, is the further postponement of the action of the Ministy in regard to mediation. This delay can not be of long duration. The tone of the Times itself, yesterday, shows that the Government must yield to public sentiment.

Preparing to Attack Paris.

It is thought the Prussians are preparing a grand attack on Paris from the north. At Gennevilles, peasants who fled to Paris on the approach of the Prussians from the east, have asked permission to return to their homes. The Prussian General refused on the ground that it was his object to starve out the city.

CANCER! CANCER!

DR. W. L. HITCHCOCK,
Of Madison, Georgia,

Makes a specialty of treating all persons afflicted with

CANCERS, SCROFULA,
Indolent, Ulcers, etc., etc.

HE has successfully treated CANCERS for the last TWENTY YEARS, without the use of the knife or any mercurial agent. He begs to refer those afflicted to the following certificates of persons who have been cured by his treatment. They speak for themselves. The question will be asked who is Dr. Hitchcock? To all such I will answer that I was born and raised in Georgia. For all of which I feel proud. I am permanently located in Madison, Georgia.

DR. W. L. HITCHCOCK: It gives me pleasure to give my testimony in regard to the wonderful effects produced by your Vegetable Cancer Plaster. About five years ago I became afflicted with Cancer, just above my right breast. From that time to August 1st, 1869, I had as many as ten or twelve Physicians to examine and prescribe for it, but all proved of no avail. I called on you about the first of August, 1869, and put myself under your treatment. I am happy to say that your Plaster removed the Cancer, and I am now entirely well. I cheerfully give this certificate, not for the purpose of applauding you, though I feel under lasting obligations to you for the cure, I do it for the benefit of all such as may be afflicted with this terrible malady.
FRANCIS A. CALLOWAY.
Rutledge, Ga., June 1, 1870.
Tested by Dr. J. F. JACKSON,
Dr. J. J. MONTGOMERY.

DR. W. L. HITCHCOCK: I do hereby certify that I have had a Cancer on my angle of my jaw for fifteen years, and have applied to a number of physicians for treatment, but without success. The application of your celebrated Plaster removed the Cancer in eight days from the time of application. It has now been nearly two years since I was cured. I cheerfully give this for the benefit of the afflicted.
T. P. PEACOCK.
Madison, Ga., June 1, 1870.

I do certify that I have been troubled with a Cancer on my cheek, near my under-eye-lid for two years past. I applied to Dr. W. L. HITCHCOCK, who applied his celebrated Cancer Plaster, and was agreeably surprised to see the Cancer come out whole, the eighth day from application; I am now well, and my face entirely healed up. I advise all persons afflicted with Cancer to give him a trial.
ROBERT SHIELDS.
Madison, August 2, 1869.

I have been suffering with a Cancer of the large kind, on the back of my neck, called rose cancer, for the past three years. I applied to Dr. W. L. HITCHCOCK, of Madison, who put a plaster on the Cancer, and, in eight days, it come out entirely. I am now well, and have been since the Cancer came out, which was last fall.
M. W. COFER.
Rutledge, Ga., September, 1868.

DR. W. L. HITCHCOCK—Dear Sir: I am pleased to state that your Plaster has entirely cured the Cancer on my nose, which has give me so much trouble. I shall ever feel grateful to you for the success of your remedy.
MRS. LORINA STRATTON.
Madison, Ga., May, 1870.

DR. W. L. HITCHCOCK: I am pleased to certify that I have had a large Cancer on my right arm for twenty years, and have seen and advised with numbers of Physicians, who advised me to let it alone, as they considered the Cancer too far advanced to be subdued by remedies. I heard of you and made application for treatment, as a last resort, and to my great satisfaction your Plaster has taken out the Cancer, in eight days, by the roots, and the sore is now rapidly healing, and I entertain strong hopes of a speedy recovery.

Edgefield Court House, S. C.

DR. W. L. HITCHCOCK—Dear Sir: I do hereby certify that I have been afflicted sorely with Cancer for fifteen years, and have tried many Physicians, and spent a great deal of money—all to no purpose, until I called on you, in Madison, last winter. The application of your Plaster has acted like a charm. I have the Cancer now in my possession, and the sores are all healed up, except one small place, which is nearly healed. I beg to refer all persons afflicted to call on Dr. Hitchcock, at Madison, Georgia.
T. B. REESE.
Edgefield C. H., S. C., or Hamburg, South Carolina, May, 1870.

DR. W. L. HITCHCOCK—Dear Sir:—I am happy to certify that your remedies have cured the Cancer on my face and nose, that had given me so much pain for twelve years. It appears as sound as if I never had a Cancer.
MRS. E. B. STANTON.
Newton County, Ga., April 29, 1870—Postoffice at Social Circle, Georgia.

It affords me pleasure to state that I have witnessed a number of remarkable cures of Cancer, by the application of Dr. W. L. Hitchcock's Cancer Plaster.
J. F. PATTERSON,
September, 1870. Madison, Ga.

DR. W. L. HITCHCOCK'S
LIVER MEDICINE.

I would also state that, in addition to my curing Cancers, I am in regular practice of medicine, and make a specialty of treating chronic diseases, especially those peculiar to females, to which, from a long experience and extensive practice, I guarantee perfect satisfaction. I also keep a full assortment of my Family Medicines on hand of my own manufacturing, but I call your special attention to my celebrated COMPOUND FLUID EXTRACT OF STILLINGIA AND INDIAN HEMP, OR ALTERATIVE AND LIVER TONIC. It invariably relieves the following disorders: Chronic Torpidity of the Liver, Spleen, and Kidneys, Bladder. It cures Dyspepsia and Scrofula, Eruptions and Blotches of the Skin. It cures mercurial and old venerial diseases. Some will ask, how can this one medicine cure all of these diseases. The answer is this, it is so compounded, to answer all of the requirements of those symptoms, being compounded of the best and purest and most reliable Liver medicine, tonic, alteratives, diuretic and disinfectants that belongs to the vegetable kingdom. This medicine is the result of twenty years experience. I used it in my private practice for the last 20 years, and within the last 6 months I have sold over $1,000 worth of it, and I have to hear of the first complaint. I claim and assert it without the fear of contradiction from any that have tried it, to be superior to any of the preparations of the day for the diseases that I recommend it for.

I have never advertised this medicine before. I have always been opposed to advertising nostrums and quack medicines, but having been persuaded, for years, by my friends, I have concluded to do so, for the good of all that may avail themselves of the benefit of it. I could give thousands of testimonials to the happy effects of this medicine, but being satisfied that it will recommend and sustain itself, and all I ask is to give it a fair and impartial trial. Take it by the direction on the bottle, and if you do not find it all, or more than I claim for it, then I will agree to stop the sale.

I put up my medicine in ONE and TWO DOLLAR bottles, to suit persons and patients.

One word more to those that are suffering with Cancers. Don't let the Doctor dishearten you, For the most of them will, because they can't cure you themselves, will tell you that you can't be cured.

I have been curing Cancers for twenty years, and have never failed but in one case, and that case was beyond medical aid. If you have a CANCER call and see me, and I will tell you in a half hour if I can cure you; will charge nothing for examination, and if I cure you, will be reasonable in may charges.

CERTIFICATES.

DR. W. L. HITCHCOCK—Dear Sir:—This is to certify that my wife and daughter, Mrs. W. H. Jones, of Union Point, Ga., and our cook woman, have used your Alterative Liver Medicine, and do all cheerfully say it has had a fine effect; has entirely relieved them of their liver affection. Dr. Cheny, of Newborn, said my little grandchild, was laboring under an affection of the liver, and also was badly affected with Asthma. I learn he has been entirely relieved. Our cook woman is about the turn of life, and has been suffering with diseased liver, and general debility of the whole system, together with inflammatory rheumatism. She says she is entirely cured by the use of your Medicine. I cheerfully recommend it to the public, believing it to be a good medicine.
Yours truly,
REV. W. A. FLORENCE,
Pastor of the M. E. Church, South, Madison, Ga.

DR. W. L. HITCHCOCK—Dear Sir:—I have used your Alterative and Liver Medicine, and have derived great benefit from it. Other members of my family have used it with like benefit, and I can confidently recommend it as a good remedy for the diseases you propose to relieve.
Yours, C. M. IRWIN,
Pastor Baptist Church.
Madison, Ga., September 6, 1870.

DR. W. L. HITCHCOCK—Dear Sir:—I have had the misfortune to be afflicted with a liver and dyspeptic affection for the last twenty years. I have scarcely been able to eat or digest my food without pain, and have often tried various remedies, but found no relief until I took a course of your Alterative Medicine. I am now well and hearty. I cheerfully recommend all persons who may be afflicted with indigestion, to give these Medicines a trial, and I am sure they will be relieved.
PHILIP SHOUSE.
Madison Ga., December, 1860.

DR. W. L. HITCHCOCK—Dear Sir:—I have been laboring under a dyspeptic and liver affection for a number of years past, so much so that I had reduced in flesh to a mere skeleton, and became cancerous, having a large one on my jaw, which had resisted treatment, or rather cure, for twelve years. I commenced taking your Alterative and Liver Medicine, which has affected a permanent cure. Your Cancer Plaster took out the cancer, and I am now well and hearty, and have been for two years. I recommend all persons, afflicted with the above diseases, to try your remedies.
T. P. PEACOCK.
Madison, Ga.

DR. W. L. HITCHCOCK—Dear Sir:—This is to certify that I have, for the last eight years, been afflicted with a canturious affection of the skin, which is greatly relieved by your Stillinga and Indian Hemp. I cheerfully recommend its use to all persons who may be thus afflicted. I find it to be all you represent it to be.
W. L. HUDSON,
Conyers, Ga.
September 3, 1870.

DR. W. L. HITCHCOCK—Sir:—This is to certify that I have used your Cathartic Liver Medicine in my family for the last two years with the most happy results. I do not hesitate to recommend it to all those who may be afflicted with torpid condition of the liver, skin diseases, scrofulous affection, etc., I find it all you represent it to be.
SAMUEL PENNINGTON.

A NEW DISCOVERY!!
PHALON'S
"VITALIA;"
OR,
Salvation for the Hair.
CLEAR AS WATER!
WITHOUT SEDIMENT!!
OPEN TO THE LIGHT!!!
For Restoring to Gray Hair its Original Color.

PHALON'S "VITALIA" differs utterly from all the hair coloring preparations heretofore used. It is limpid, sweet smelling, precipitates no muddy or slimy matter, requires no shaking, imparts no stain to the skin. Hold it to the light and it is clear and cloudless. It leaves no mark on the scalp; yet it reproduces in gray hair the natural color that time or sickness may have bleached out of it.

☞ Phalon's Vitalia ☜
is for one sole purpose, that of reproducing, with absolute certainty, the natural color of the hair. It is not intended as a daily dressing, nor for removing scurf or dandruff; nor for curing baldness; nor for stimulating the growth of the hair.—These objects may be accomplished after the color has been fixed with the Vitalia, by Phalon's Chemical Hair Invigorator.

THE VITALIA is a harmless and unequaled preparation for the reproduction of the original hue of gray hair, and nothing else. This is accomplished in from two to ten applications according to the depth of shade required. Sold by all druggists.

ROSADALIS!
R O S A D A L I S
THE Great American Health Restorer, purifies the blood and cures Scrofula, Syphilis, Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Diseases of Women, and all Chronic Affections of the Blood, Liver and Kidneys. Recommended by the Medical Faculty and many thousands of our best citizens.
Read the testimony of Physicians and patients who have used Rosadalis; send for our Rosadalis Guide to Health Book, or Almanac for this year, which we publish for gratuitous distribution; it will give you much valuable information.
Dr. R. W. Carr, of Baltimore, says:
I take pleasure in recommending your Rosadalis as a very powerful alterative. I have seen it used in two cases with happy results—one in a case of secondary syphilis, in which the patient pronounced himself cured after having taken five bottles of your medicine. The other is a case of Scrofula of long standing, which is rapidly improving under its use, and the indications are that the patient will soon recover. I have carefully examined the formula by which your Rosadalis is made, and find it an excellent compound of alterative ingredients.
Dr. Sparks, of Nicholasville, Ky., says he has used Rosadalis in cases of Scrofula and Secondary Syphilis with satisfactory results—as a cleaner of the Blood I know no better remedy.
Samuel G. McFadden, Murfreesboro', Tenn., says:
I have used seven bottles of Rosadalis, and am entirely cured of Rheumatism; send me four bottles, as I wish it for my brother, who has scrofulous sore eyes.
Benjamin Bechtol, of Lima, Ohio, writes I have suffered for twenty years with an inveterate eruption over my whole body; a short time since I purchased a bottle of Rosadalis and it effected a perfect cure.
Rosadalis is sold by all Druggists.

LAGRANGE, GA., DEC. 3, 1869.
MESSRS. CRAWFORD & WALKER, West Point, Ga. Gentlemen: Having witnessed almost daily, for the last fifteen years, the great efficacy of the preparation you are now putting up, known as "Abbett's Medicine," it affords me pleasure to state that I know of no combinations or preparation equal to it in the treatment of Liver Diseases of whatever character, and would cordially recommend it to all who are suffering from derangement of the Liver, and especially the Dyspeptic.
I am, very respectfully,
